1. One goal of social psychologists has been to _______________________________.

2. _______________________________ is considered to be one of the founders of a school of psychological thought called _______________________________ _______________________________.

3. What do social learning theorists propose? Give an example.

4. Which of Bandura’s four theoretical propositions do you think would turn out to be true? Why?

5. What were all of the different possible groupings of children used in the aggression study?

6. The Bobo doll is a large _________________ clown, weighted at the bottom so it _______________________________ when _________________ or ________________.

7. The results showed that ________________ of the four hypotheses presented by Bandura, Ross, and Ross were supported.
   a. What hypothesis was not supported? What happened instead?

8. The consequence of _______________________________ is an __________________ probability that a child will respond to _______________________________ with _______________________________.

9. Children imitated the violence _______________ when they _______________________________ but significantly _______________ when the model _______________________________ _______________________________.

10. True or false (circle one): The results of the Bobo doll study were also applicable to violence to real-life people.

11. True or false (circle one): Childhood exposure to media violence predicts young adult aggressive behavior.